TRAINED MARE
TRAILS A THIEF

Horse Stolen From a Montana Trader Rounded Up After Chase of Nineteen Miles.

Zinky, a horse thief, was caught at Joliet, Ill., by C. E. Rogers, a Montana horse trader, through the use of a trained mare who, like a bloodhound, took the scent of the stolen animal and led the owner direct to him.

Rogers with a herd of sixty horses was camping near the drainage channel in Lockport when he and his men were aroused by uneasiness among the other horses. With a shout that he would soon have the thief he mounted the mare, which promptly took the scent. The nineteen miles they went west and finally the thief and the horse were sighted. Zinky, the thief, is seventeen years of age and lives near Lockport.

Rogers was on his way to Chicago Heights. He fairly worships the trained mare, which was brought up for the purpose of scenting stolen and strayed horses.

Rubrics.

Most of the medieval manuscripts have the important initials in red ink; hence arose the term rubrics from rubric-red.

The Codex Upsal.

The Codex Upsal differs from every other known manuscript in the fact that it was written with silver ink on violet parchment, the initials being of gold. The secret of the manufacture of this silver ink is not definitely known, though it is suspected that some solution of the metal was employed in the writing and then subsequently treated with chemicals to give the metallic luster and effect.

The End of the World

of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. He writes: "Two years ago kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They also cured me of general debility. Sure cure for all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, blood diseases, headache, dizziness and weakness or lousy decline. Price 50c. Guaranteed by Red Cross Pharmacy."

TURNING THE COLORADO.

Effort to Be Made to Get It Back to Original Course.

An army of men will shortly begin the titanic struggle with the rushing Colorado river, attempting to check the devastation which the change in the river's course has brought to two states. Three hundred square miles flooded. 200 miles of railroad tracks washed out, a thriving industry ruined—this is the record of the destruction caused by the river breaking through its banks and flooding the surrounding country.

The Colorado river is the dividing line between Arizona and the southern portion of California. Most of the water has poured into the Yuma basin, in Arizona, but the flood has also brought destruction to the one industry in the miles of the burning southern California desert. The Salton sink, once a part of the Pacific's bed, but for centuries past a level bottom of pure salt harvested year after year for the markets, has been flooded, and the unique salt farm has been wiped out of existence, temporarily at least. Hopes are held forth that the work which the Southern Pacific Railroad company is to begin will make the salt industry possible there again and that once more the little village of Salton, where the salt workers lived, will be populated.

To operate this novel salt farm a plow was designed, drawn by a cable attached to a small steam locomotive. This locomotive passed to and fro on a miniature track, and by means of a big grooved wheel, set horizontally in the fashion of a street cable, the plow was drawn at right angles to the engine. Plowed into furrows, the salt was heaped in great cones, placed in cars and shipped to the market, the greater part of it requiring no refining process, so pure was it.

The salt farm was a profitable industry, and the operating company built a little settlement at the foot of the mountain. Here the salt was treated when necessary, and here were the homes of the workmen and their families. But at the present the village is wrecked and the farm deserted, for it has become, literally, another Great Salt Lake.—New York Tribune.

A Developing Empire.

The cutting up of the large landholdings in the Sacramento valley into small farms simultaneously with the completion of great systems of irrigation has brought on an era of development in the northern part of the state the importance of which is scarcely realized as yet outside the immediate vicinity of the undertakings. But the developments are big with importance not only for the Sacramento valley, but for the entire state and particularly for San Francisco.—San Francisco Call.

The Nines of Pope Pius.

When the pope gave a dinner to celebrate his elevation to the cardinalate he remarked to one of the guests that he had been nine years at the seminary, nine years curate at Tombolo, nine years rector of Salzano and nine years bishop of Mantua. Pius X. was the patriarch of Venice and cardinal for nine years.

Peanuts.

At the present time the peanut crop amounts to about 11,000,000 bushels annually. Virginia and North Carolina still maintain their lead, but Tennessee now raises about 800,000 bushels, though of an inferior quality. Of the ordinary variety about twenty-two pounds make a bushel.

PET HORSE SITS DOWN WITH GUESTS

Animal Occupies Seat of Honor at Birthday Dinner Given For Him by His Mistress.

Miss Sophie Curtis of New York gave a dinner party at her summer home, the Pines, in Sheffield, Mass., in honor of her pet horse Surprise. Invitations had been issued to New York and Berkshire society people. At a nod from his mistress Surprise walked into the house and seated himself at the right hand of Miss Curtis. On her left was Mrs. B. B. Glenn of Buffalo.

The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Percy, Mrs. Ludwig and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kidder of New York, Mrs. Howard Whiting and Miss Betty Whiting of Boston, Mrs. R. C. Taft and Miss Anne Taft of South Ferrisport. The house and table were elaborately decorated with cut flowers, handsome harness and miniature equipages for the occasion. In the center of the table was a birthday cake, surrounded by seven lighted tapers.

At the close of the lunch Mrs. B. B. Glenn in rhyme presented Surprise with these gifts in remembrance of his birthday: From Miss Curtis, a yellow and green blanket, embroidered with gold braid, with the name Surprise worked on a centerpiece; from Mrs. E. E. Kidder, a silver vase filled with flowers; from Mrs. B. B. Glenn, a cut glass bonbon dish filled with leaf sugar; from Mr. and Mrs. Kidder, a string of sugar plums; from Mrs. Taft, a poem of greetings from her pet horse; from Mrs. Whiting, a wreath of oaks and roses; from Mrs. Ludwig, a silver trimmed bride.

After luncheon Surprise went into the parlor and gave an exhibition of his mental equipment. At the call of Miss Curtis he bows, says yes or no, lies or sits down, as desired.

At the close of the party the horse bowed to each of the guests and trotted out of the house to his quarters in the stables near by. Surprise has won many blue ribbons at horse shows and at Berkshire county fairs. He was raised and trained by Miss Curtis.

Child's Bite May Kill.

Dr. Edward H. Place, a house physician at the Boston City hospital, is seriously ill from blood poisoning, the result of being bitten by a child patient in the diphtheria ward. The child was choking to death, and Dr. Place, by inserting a tube in the child's throat, saved its life. As the physician was withdrawing the tube the child seized one of his fingers in its teeth. The wound was quickly cauterized, but blood poisoning set in.

Rat Trap Catches Wife.

It is claimed that a well known citizen of Centerville, Pa., had been losing money out of his trousers pockets at night. He suspected that his wife was purloining his small change and determined to trap her. He placed a small rat trap in the pocket where he kept his money and was awakened in the night by screams from his wife, whose hand was caught in the trap. Her fingers were painfully bruised.

Hoarseness.

NIGHTS OF UNREST

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace for the Sufferer from Kidney Troubles.

No peace for the kidney sufferer—Pain and distress from more to night. Get up with a lame back, Twinges of backache bother you all day, Dull aching breaks your rest at night, Urinary disorders add to your misery. Get at the cause—cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.

They're for the kidneys only—Have made many cures in Barre.

F. A. Beede of East Barre, Vt., says: "I was bothered with a constant lameness across my back and kidneys. I was very restless at night and when I awoke mornings I felt more tired than when I went to bed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for such troubles and went to E. A. Drown's drug store for a box. They proved to be just what I needed. It was not long before the lameness left my back and I could sleep well nights. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and I shall always be glad to tell people of my experience with this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

One of the oldest Masonic aprons in the country is owned by Chief of Police Thomas O. D. Urquhart of Arlington, Me. It was owned by his great-grandfather and has been handed down in the family ever since.

From boyhood Dr. Naussen, the polar explorer, accustomed himself to the use of snowshoes and would often go forty or fifty miles on them without taking any food with him. He had a great dislike to any outfit for his excursions.

Judge Lebbus R. Willey, attorney general of the Philippine Islands, has been appointed to the judgeship of the United States court in China, which is to replace in a large measure the present consular court. Judge Willey is from St. Louis.

Judge Charles Field of Athol, Mass., who was appointed to the first district court of northern Worcester in 1884, has entered upon his ninety-second year, but daily sits on the bench. Two or three times a week he has to make a judicial trip to Gardner and return, a matter of thirty-four miles.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, in the name of his father, and Alfred G., in the name of his mother, made application for membership in the Rhode Island Society of the Cincinnati as the representative of the Vanderbilt family. The society decided that Cornelius was the proper representative and he was elected.

THE PAINTERS.

Amelle Rives is an artist; her husband, Prince Troubetzkoy, is a painter, but "She is greater than I" is the compliment he pays her.

W. D. Murphy, a New York artist, has completed a three-quarter length portrait of Admiral Dewey, which is pronounced by all of the latter's acquaintances to be the best portraiture of him ever made.

Tade Styka had two of the most striking pictures in this year's Paris salon. He is fifteen and the son of a Polish painter. He has been an accepted exhibitor since 1903, when he had a portrait of Tolstol accepted.

Alfred East, A. R. A., who succeeds the late Sir Wyke Baylis as president of the Royal Society of British Artists, was born at Kettering, where he earned his first 5 shillings at the age of seven by drawing a mammoth for an itinerant lecturer. He learned the rudiments of art while earning his living in a Glasgow counting house.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is true, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain. Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.

Observe these simple rules and you will agree that the one who gets the most from life is
